IV. Read the passage, then choose the correct answer A, B, C, or D.

In the last few weeks I have spent every Saturday in my flat and have done nothing more exciting than work at home, read the newspapers, and watch television. I had begun feeling bored with this and so, last weekend I thought I would do something different. I phoned several of my friends and we decided to go to London for the day. I was really excited as I hadn't been to London since I was ten. We decided to go by coach as this was the cheapest means of transport. In London we decided to take a sightseeing tour as we wanted to see some of the famous buildings. After the tour, we bought some sandwiches and ate them in the small park. In the afternoon some of us went shopping and the others went to the theater. We met up again at 6.30 p.m and went to a small restaurant in Sotho. The meal was really good, but, unfortunately, it took much longer than we had expected. We had to get a taxi back to the coach station. Luckily, we got there just two minutes before our coach left.

Becoming Independent

The step into adult life can be incredibly exciting, but it also brings with it a whole range of challenges. The (31)_____ and independence from family can feel great, but it can also be really hard. There are lots of decisions to make as you figure out what you want to do with your life.

Study... work... money... relationships... partying. There are lots of (32)_____ and decisions to be made. You may be thinking about leaving home, your career or independent life. Maybe you feel pressure to 'make something of yourself' or to be a success. This pressure might be from other people or from within yourself.

Most people will feel some (33)_____ or worry about these things; for others, these added challenges can make life quite hard and contribute to depression or anxiety.

If you can't find work or have lost your job or left education early, it brings all sorts of challenges. The most obvious challenge is having no money. You may feel a sense of failure that can knock your (34)_____. These changes may also mean you're not in regular contact with other people any more.

It's not just unemployment which can contribute to depression. Lack of job (35)_____ can also play a part. As you're figuring out what you want to do work wise, or struggling with your work and social life, you might find that you're not actually enjoying the job you chose.

Read the article and answer the questions that follow.

Is There Really a Generation Gap?

According to the results of a survey in USA WEEKEND Magazine, there isn't really a generation gap. The magazine's "Teens & Parents" survey shows that today's generation of young people generally get along well with their parents and appreciate the way they're being raised. Most feel that their parents understand them, and they believe their parents consider family as the No. 1 priority in their lives. Although more than a third of teens have something in their rooms they would like to keep secret from their parents, it is usually nothing more harmful than a diary or a CD.

Such results may seem surprising in the context of the violent events that people hear about in the media. Maybe because of the things they hear, parents worry that their own kids might get out of control once they reach the teenage years. However, the facts in the survey should make us feel better. The survey shows us that today's teens are loving and sensible. They are certainly happier than the angry people in the teenage stereotypes we all know about. True, some teenagers are very angry, and we need to recognize their needs, but the great majority of teens are not like that at all.

In contrast to some stereotypes, most teens believe they must be understanding about differences among individuals. Many of them volunteer for community service with disadvantaged people. When they talk about themselves, their friends and their families, they sound positive and proud. Generally, these are very nice kids.

Is this spirit of harmony a change from the past? Only a generation ago, parent-child relations were described as the "generation gap". Yet even then, things were not so bad. Most kids in the 1960s and 1970s shared their parents' basic values.

Perhaps, however, it is true that American families are growing closer at the beginning of this new millennium. Perhaps there is less to fight about, and the dangers of drug abuse and other unacceptable behavior are now well known. Perhaps, compared to the impersonal world outside the home, a young person's family is like a friendly shelter, not a prison. And perhaps parents are acting more like parents than they did 20 or 30 years ago.

Question 36. According the first paragraph, what did the survey find out about teenagers?

- A. They get along well with their parents.
- B. They appreciate good CDs.
- C. They keep secrets from their parents.
- D. They stay in their rooms.

Question 37. According to paragraph two, parents hear things that make them worry about their own kids. What kind of things do they hear?

- A. stories on the radio
- B. the violent events in the media
- C. funny films on TV
- D. their teachers' comments at school

Question 38. What is the stereotype referred to in paragraph 2?

- A. Teens are people who recognize their needs.
- B. Teens are loving and sensible.
- C. Teens are much happier than we think.
- D. Teens are angry people.

Question 39. What is the main subject of paragraph three?

- A. Differences between teens.
- B. Stereotypes about teens.
- C. The positive attitude of teens to others.
- D. Volunteering for disadvantaged people.

Question 40. In what way, according to the writer, are parents today different from they were a generation ago?

- A. there is more to fight about
- B. the dangers of drug abuse are still unknown
- C. other unacceptable behaviors are now well known
- D. a young person's family is like a prison

III. READING

Read the passage and choose the best answers

In many aspects of life, effective communication skills are extremely important. With good communication skills, people can enjoy better interpersonal relationships with friends and family. The following are some guides that can help you improve your communication skills.

Learn to listen

Listening is not the same as hearing; you should learn to listen not only to the words being spoken but also how they are being spoken and the non-verbal messages sent with them. You shouldn't think about what to say next while listening; instead clear your mind and focus on the message being received. Your friends, colleagues and other acquaintances will appreciate your good listening skills.

Try to understand other people's emotions

To understand other people's emotions, you should be sympathetic to other people's misfortunes and congratulate them on their achievements. To do this, you need to be aware of what is going on in other people's lives. It's crucial to maintain eye contact and do not be afraid to ask others for their opinions as this will help to make them feel valued.

Encourage

It's advised that you offer words and actions of encouragement, as well as praise, to others, which make other people feel welcome, valued and appreciated in your communications. If you let others know that they are valued, they are much more likely to give you their best. You should also try to ensure that everyone get involved in an interaction or conversation by using effective body language and open questions.

Question 19. What is the best title for the passage?

- A. Benefits of owning effective communication skills
- B. Ways to improve communication skills
- C. Behaviours of a good listener
- D. How to understand other people's emotions

Question 20. Why are effective communication skills important in our lives?

- A. They help us enjoy a calm state of mind.
- B. They help us catch people's attention.
- C. They help us build good interpersonal relationships with others.
- D. They help us improve our communication skills.

Question 21. What should listeners do while someone is speaking?

- A. Listen attentively to what is being spoken and how it is delivered.
- B. Not listen to the words spoken but learn how they are spoken.
- C. Think of what should be spoken next.
- D. Only pay attention to the words being spoken, not the non-verbal messages sent with them.

Question 22. According to the writer, what is the way to feel other people's emotions?

- A. We should show sympathy for other people's bad luck.
- B. We should express congratulations on other people's success.
- C. Ask others about their emotions.
- D. Both A and B are correct.

Question 23. What should we do to involve everyone in an interaction or conversation?

- A. Discourage them through words and actions.
- B. Use body language and open questions.
- C. Let others feel valued and appreciated.
- D. Make others feel welcome in your communication

Read the passage and choose the best option to fill in each blank.

An important part of being an adult is becoming more independent from your parents. _____ (24) _____ independent, you'll need to focus on your living situation, your financial resources, your budgeting behavior and possibly how you interact with your parents in your day-to-day life.

Make sure you are living somewhere other than your parents' house or in a residence that your parents have paid _____ (25) _____. If you want to be independent and make your own decisions about how you live, you will need to obtain your own housing that is completely separate from your parents both physically and financially.

One of the main challenges in becoming independent as an adult is acquiring a sufficient income to allow you to live without the financial _____ (26) _____ of your parents. This can be particularly difficult if you are still a university student, but it is not impossible. Seek scholarships and part-time jobs. If you are _____ (27) _____ a student, find employment that offers a salary that can cover your expenses. Avoid relying on your parents as the first option for help of any kind. Although your parents will always be an important source of social support in your life, your parents should not be the first people you approach with requests for help, or requests for financial assistance. This means that you may never ask your parents for help again, it just means that as an independent adult, there should be _____ (28) _____ sources of support within your life that you can turn to when necessary.

Question 24.

A. to becoming      B. becoming      C. to become      D. become

Read the passage, and choose the correct answer A, B, C or D for each question.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson have two children, Lara 10 and Peter is 16. Mrs. Nelson first discovered that Peter was getting into trouble when school rang her to say that he hadn't turned up that day, or the day before. She realized right away that he had been truanting.

Peter's behaviour was causing conflict in the house and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson were both concerned. They had different views of how they should deal with Peter's behaviour and this led to rows that upset the whole family. They decided to prevent Peter from going out with his friends, but this just made him more stubborn and he would continue to miss school and stay outside his curfew.

Over the coming weeks, family life became more and more difficult. Mr. and Mrs. felt that they could no longer do this on their own and asked the school to help. They arranged for Peter to talk to someone he trusted, and they made an agreement for him gradually attending school again. He was also given some time to catch up with the work he had missed.

As he started to talk it through, Peter realized that he had been unhappy at school for a while. He admitted that he had felt lonely since his best friend moved away and another group had persuaded him to skip school. As he missed more and more school, it became harder to go back.

Peter was encouraged to tell his parents how much he missed his friend and that he to spend time with his dad playing football or fishing. Mr. Nelson thought he had grown out of that a long time ago but was pleased to spend time with Peter again.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson tried to notice every day when Peter achieved his goal of attending being on time and remembering to do his homework. It took a little longer for Peter's friendship to return to normal and Peter has had to learn to prove himself trustworthy to his parents, but gradually Mr. and Mrs. Nelson are learning to trust Peter again.

IV. READING

Read the passage and do the tasks below.

A new hearing device is now available for some hearing-impaired people. This device uses a magnet to hold a detachable sound-processing portion in place. Like other aids, it converts sound into vibrations. But it is unique in that it can transmit the vibrations directly to the magnet and then to the inner ear. This produces a clearer sound. The new device will not help all hearing-impaired people only those with a hearing loss caused by infection or some other problems in the middle ear. It will probably help no more than 20 percent of all people with hearing problems. Those people who have persistent ear infections, however, should find relief and restored hearing with the new device.

Question 29. What is the author's main purpose?

- A. To describe a new cure for ear infections
- B. To inform the reader of a new device
- C. To urge doctors to use a new device
- D. To explain the use of a magnet

Question 30. It can be inferred from the passage that _____.

- A. this use of magnet is new
- B. infections are in the inner ear
- C. magnets can be dangerous for 80% of people
- D. the new devices is smaller than the old ones

Question 31. According to the passage, what does the device not do?

- A. Transmit sound to the inner ear.
- B. Help all hearing-impaired people.
- C. Produce clearer sound.
- D. Change sounds into vibrations.

Question 32. The sound-processing unit _____.

- A. is a magnet
- B. is placed in the middle ear
- C. helps cure infections
- D. can be removed

Question 33. The word "relief" in the last sentence means _____.

- A. less distress
- B. assistance
- C. distraction
- D. relaxation

Choose the correct word that best fits each space.

Many parents believe that they should begin to teach their children to read when they are (34)_____ more than toddlers. This is fine if the child shows a real interest but forcing a child could be counter-productive if she isn't ready. Wise parents will have a (35)_____ attitude and take the lead from their child. What they should provide is a selection of (36)_____ toys, books and other activities. Nowadays there is plenty of good (37)_____ available for young children, and of course, seeing plenty of books in use around the house will also (38)_____ them to read.

Of course, books are no longer the only source of stories and information. There is also a huge range of videos, which can reinforce and extend the pleasure a child finds in a book and are (39)_____ valuable in helping to increase vocabulary and concentration. Television gets a bad review as far as children are concerned, mainly because too many children spend too much time watching programmes not intended for their age (40)_____. Too many television programmes induce an incurious, uncritical attitude that is going to make learning much more difficult. However, (41)_____ viewing of programmes designed for young children can be useful. Just as adults enjoy reading a book after seeing it serialised on television, so children will pounce on books which (42)_____ their favourite television characters, and videos can add a new (43)_____ to a story known from a book.

Our teenage years are probably the most (44)_____ of our lives. This is the time we pass from childhood into adulthood. So many things are happening to us. Our bodies change, our (45)_____ change and our whole life changes. We have to learn to be (46)_____ , mature and responsible in a few short years. We have to take (47)_____ , get a job and perhaps start a family. That must come as a bit of a (48)_____ for most teenagers. Part of all this new independence is teenage (49)_____ . This is probably the most difficult part of parents' lives. All those moods and all that sulking. It can put a strain on (50)_____ life. People always think they really want babies and children; no one ever says "I want a teenager".
